

July 9th

Dear Anne,

The Haughtons are I suppose on their way to the White Hills - but I do not positively know - as I've not heard from them or seen them for some ten days they left in Gloucester but intended to start with the family of one of their pupils, either last week or tomorrow for N. Hampshire - They'll be away about a fortnight then heavily concerted - where any thing will reach them by mail.

Am thought it would please you to have Mr G; exact words to us when speaking of Lucia, as her judgment, we think, is very reliable in such matters - for she observes closely persons looks -

Yesterday I went to Versailles back this morning. Lucia looks better than when I saw her at Weymouth and the improvement in her health appears to be great -

I'll tell Garrison when I go in tomorrow about the fair -

Of course if I come to Weymouth you'll expect only me service, one speech - I'll live down so as to give you some of my schyltful

Society before tea - But should you fail to write me I'd not repine evens though I lose so much in not seeing you - for its mighty hot weather to lecture - so let me off if you can possibly thank you for your pity about the 4th Garrison lady needed a fire to burn anything -

By the way would be mexcellent to ask Mrs.
C. L. Remond to sign the Fair call - one other colored representative would do with a she's very lady like & would damn nobody - thank dit.
